Wilson is Paroled.

Frankfort, Ky., April 6.—The state board of prison commissioners tonight paroled E. K. Wilson, former county attorney of Laurel county, and a prominent politician, who is serving a five years' sentence.
Wilson is alleged to have caused the death of a young girl by means of a criminal operation. The prison board refused to parole George Miller, the Lexington gambler.

Eczema, scald head, hives, itchingness of the skin of any sort instantly relieved, permanently cured Doan's Ointment. At any drug store.

George Atkinson Dying.

Earlington, Ky., April 7.—Geo.
C. Atkinson, secretary and treasurer of the St. Bernard Mining Company, is dying at San Antonio, Texas, of a rupture of a blood vessel, sustained while climbing the mountains in New Mexico. His brother and family have gone to his bedside.

It's the little colds that grow into big colds; the big colds that end in consumption and death. Watch the little colds. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Mr. Scally was appointed several weeks ago by Hubert Vreeland, commissioner of agriculture, labor and statistics, to succeed Andy Ludwig, who was appointed two years ago by former commissioner I. B. Nail.

Horehound Syrup for two years,

I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can Representative DeArmond and Grosvenor engaged in a political debate in the House. Gen. Grosvenor said that no one dare criticize the President for his action in the Panama Canal matter.

Spring fever is simply "that tired feeling," a lassitude caused by a sluggish condition of the blood. The liver and bowels need a cleaning out in the spring and nothing is so effective and at the same time so pleasant to take as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is sold by all druggists.

The directors of the United States Steel Corporation at New York declared a regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, on the preferred stock. No action was taken on the question of a dividend on the common stock.

READING IN BED.

May or May Not Be Harmful According to Circumstances.

A lot of volunteer correspondents of a London daily recently discussed the question whether it is healthy to read in bed. There are objections to the practice, of course, which are based on other considerations than those of eyesight. With a tempting story one may be led to lie awake longer than is wise. Economical landladies do not like to have their boarders consume too much gas.
Accidents sometimes happen in consequence of upsetting lamps or candles when placed too near a bed. These, however, important, belong to a different class of drawbacks to the habit from those discussed in the London paper.

Commenting on the controversy, American Medicine says that it settles nothing. Those who believe in the practice will doubtless continue to indulge, at least occasionally, while those who disapprove will abstain. Like every other doubtful custom, this one may be good or bad, according to the method in which it is carried out. If the position is absolutely horizontal, the habit is unqualifiedly bad, because in such a position the eyes are fixed upon the book in a straining and harmful way, and the book cannot be sufficiently and properly illuminated by the lamp or light used. But if one sits propped up by pillows, in much the same position of the head and trunk as when in a chair, there can be no evil consequences, providing a good rich light is rightly placed behind and at one side of the head. These precautions are even more necessary in night reading than in that by daylight.

The greatest argument for reading in bed is that the attention is not distracted by the discomfort of the body, the noises and interruptions usual at other times.
Let one take an erect position of the body and head, be assured he has a good oculist, and that his light is strong, white, steady and properly placed; he may then read with impunity until drowsiness cautions him to stop.

THE ESSENCE OF ART.

Not So Much the Subject as Arrangement of Line and Mass.

We must remember that it is not the choice of subject that makes the value of the work of art, writes John La Farge, in Mc-Clure's. Otherwise the story of the Bible would always be full of aesthetic beauty instead of the indefinite tedium which haunts the religious picture. So, evidently, in the smaller dramatic situations, the fact that so many brave men have held a small post with their last cartridges that certain men have made a last ineffectual charge, whether English or French, at Fontenoy or Waterloo, does not make a work of art. The meaning of the heroism should be told in painting by the arrangement of line and mass, color, embracing more or less, within its net, the human courage which is the story of the picture. No poet laureate, because he has the task of telling a great national story, thereby succeeds in a heroic ode.
Rare, indeed, even in poetry, are the stories of great successful battles. It might almost seem as if the stories of defeat, of how "the flowers of the forest are all withdrawn," carry with them more of the essence of art than the songs of triumph, and because of the solemnity of human fate, there has been no greater triumph recorded than that of the dead Hector dragged around the walls of sacred Troy behind the chariot-wheels of the victor Achilles.

What Gold-Beaters Can Do.

Gold-beaters, by hammering, can reduce gold leaves so thin that 282,000 must be laid upon each other to produce the thickness of an inch, yet each leaf is so perfect and free from holes that one of them laid upon any surface, as in gilding, gives the appearance of solid gold. They are so thin that if formed into a book 1,500 would only occupy the space of a single leaf of common paper, and an octavo volume of an inch thick would have as many pages as the books of a well-stocked library of 1,500 volumes with 200 pages in each.

Too Lazy.

Some men are chronic kickers and some others are too lazy to kick.

"WHERE'S MAMMA?"

Mamma is watching her baby from the window of her room and envying the nurse her strength. It often happens that a woman dates a life of invalidism from the birth of her first child. In other cases she has a slow recovery, which shuts her out for a long time from the regular family life.

Mothers who have used Dr.
Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a preparative for maternity express their amazement at the strength it gives, keeping the body healthy, the mind cheerful and making the baby's advent practically painless.

"I cannot say too much for Dr.
Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. S. E. Rose, of Big Otter, Clay Co., W. Va. "I feel it my duty to say to all women who are suffering from female troubles that it is the best medicine on earth that they can use. I am the mother of five children, and have been as high as eight days in the doctor's hands, and never less than two days at any time until the last. Then I had used two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was only two hours in the hands of the doctor."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Pilllets are a gentle but effective laxative.
